

Bomba Estéreo hits London

June 1st 2011

Como No in association with Colombiage presents BOMBA ESTÉREO, Colombia's most explosive band. According to MTV, it's 'the Best New Band in the World'. Following popular demand, they are returning to the UK to take part in the Barbican's renowned Blaze Festival on the 29th July 2011 when they will be playing at Village Underground in London, making it the hottest night of the Summer.

Here are some facts:

- Their songs are in the top 75 most popular Latin downloads on iTunes
- The group's song 'Fuego' was chosen for the soundtrack of the FIFA video game
- They have played all over the world at festivals and major venues
- After conquering South America, the US, Europe and Japan, they played in 2010 at the prestigious Lovebox Festival in London.

What does Bomba Estéreo sound like? Like all the greatest things of our era, it's a blend - a delicious fusion of reggae, dub and Colombian cumbia with electro. Once you hear their music you won't get their exotic sound out of your head.

Don't leave joy to chance – make it yours! Come and join us on the 29th July and discover for yourselves what Bomba Estéreo is all about.

Colombiage is the most influential celebration of contemporary Colombian arts and culture in Europe and Como No is one of the UK's most established promoters of Latin music - put these two together and you'd expect nothing less than the ultimate music detonation!
